agreements, among others.

• Corporate, Partnership and Business Law—We have also represented clients in virtually every area of general corporate, partnership and business law, across a wide spectrum of industries. The Firm prides itself on not being too narrowly focused in its representation of any one particular industry, so that the Firm's attorneys are able to provide valuable insight and learned counsel to businesses of almost any kind.

• Corporate Transactions—Over the years, Linzer & Associates has helped buyers, sellers, as well as merger partners in acquiring, selling, transferring, and reorganizing a variety of businesses, through either stock transactions or asset transactions. Additionally, the Firm has participated in many intellectual property transactions associated with the purchase and acquisition of a variety of businesses.

• Intellectual Property—We have been on the leading edge of representing technology businesses in the digital space. Mr. Linzer was one of the pioneers in representing companies in the procurement of domain names, computer software development and licensing agreements, as well as the protection of business trade names, trademarks, service marks and other significant business proprietary rights. The Firm has also successfully conducted counterfeiting and seizure operations to protect manufacturers', distributors' and other rights holders' valuable rights in their trademarks and service marks.

• Real Estate—The Firm has negotiated and advised clients in a variety of purchase and sale, and lease negotiations for both commercial landlords as well as residential landlords. Litigation matters have included partition matters, easement matters, as well as neighboring property line disputes.

• Arts and Entertainment—We are experts in intellectual property matters as they pertain to your arts or entertainment project, including rights clearance, as well as filing trademark and copyright applications.
